OGDEN, Dec. 9.—Thomas Fletcher, a negro, was arraigned in the police court Wednesday morning on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder. Fletcher was the man who stabbed J. B. Abels, proprietor of the Lashus rooming house on Monday night. The negro was placed under bonds of $750 and will be given a preliminary hearing soon. P. A. Smith, William Coughnet and John Erwin, were charged with drunkenness and fined $5 each or sent to jail for an equal number of days.

The bail of $10 of Y. Gholwaaka, a Jap, was declared forfeited because he failed to appear. He was charged with carrying concealed weapons. William Taylor, morphine fiend, charged with vagrancy, were given 30 days each.

Charles Riley, Charles Jennings and James Riley were arraigned on the charge of burglary in the second degree. Charles Riley waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court. SALOON ROBBERED.
OGDEN, Dec. 9.—About 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, a policeman passing the Crystal saloon on Washington avenue near Twenty-fifth street, noticed the door of the place open, and thinking the proprietor had overlooked the door on leaving the night before, proceeded to look up and thought no more of the matter. Wednesday morning, when the saloon opened up for business, it was discovered that over $50 was missing from the cash till and now the police and proprietor are working out several theories as to how the robbery occurred. They seem to think that the man managed to conceal himself while the bartender was locking the place Tuesday night and then proceeded to help himself to the cash. The police have no clue as to the identity of the thief.

GIVEN RIGHT OF WAY.
OGDEN, Dec. 9.—After being out for over five hours, the jury in the case of the condemnation suit brought by the Ogden Rapid Transit company against John S. Mr. Lewis asked for $11,000 and testimony placed the value all the way from this figure down to $1,000. The case against Enoch Farr for a right-of-way is being tried before Judge Howell and a jury today.

UTAH FRUIT FOR POOR.

Display at Chicago Is Given to Charity Institutions.

Utah's exhibit at Chicago's land show, consisting of many wagon loads of fine fruit and vegetables, attracted widespread attention, according to the Chicago Tribune. The exhibits were given to inmates of Chicago hospitals for the aged and home for crippled and disabled children. Telling the story a Chicago paper says:

"The extensive exhibit of the Utah farmers was a sight to be dismantled. Quantities of fruit and vegetables were sent in wagons to the home for aged and the home for crippled and disabled children."

"At the request of Mrs. James T. Harahan, the Children's Memorial hospital was given a supply of honey, fruits and vegetables. The Wesleyan and Baptist hospitals also received a supply of the delicious canned fruits, together with a quantity of apples and potatoes."

"When these institutions were supplied a number of poor families whose names had been given by E. Taylor, commissioner of horticulture from Utah, were given leave to help themselves to the remainder and many of these aged widows will bless the promoters of the exhibit as they view their stores of apples, all show specimens, most of them with a commercial value of 25 cents each."

"The Twin Falls, Idaho, booth, and the fruit from the Sacramento valley, California, were given away at the doors to the poor, and to such charitable organizations as were in the greatest need of such health giving supplies."

"Bushels of apples and potatoes from the Grand Junction, Colo., exhibit were pushed by express to the sufferers of the Cherry mine disaster, while Arizona and some of Colorado exhibitors disposed of great wagon loads of fruit and vegetables to charity."
